A LETTER FROM THE FOUNDER

EVERY UNIVERSITY, AT ONE TABLE

Dear colleague,

There are more than 35,000 universities in the world. Each of them carries the hopes of a city, a region or a nation, and each of them faces the same great questions about what a university must become. Yet the conversations that shape the future of the university are held by a small circle, and more than 80 percent of the world's universities have no seat at the table where those conversations take place.

The World Summit on Universities exists to change that. Its promise has not changed since I first proposed it: not only the elites, but all. Large and small, public and private, famous and unknown, every university of every region has the same place at the Summit and the same voice in what it decides.

In November 2027 that promise takes its full form. For one week at the NEST Convention Center in Belek, Antalya, Türkiye, the leaders of the world's universities meet under one theme, Re-Imagine University. They come as Founding Delegates of the Summit: the founding assembly that hears the work of the year, examines it, and adopts it in its own name.

A full week is a deliberate choice. It gives every delegation the time to arrive, to settle after a long journey, to meet colleagues from other continents, and to speak before the texts are adopted. The Summit is a place for work and for partnership, never a place to listen in silence.

I invite you to take your seat among the Founding Delegates of WSU27. Bring your university, your experience and your questions. I look forward to welcoming you in Antalya.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

WSU27 AT A GLANCE

The World Summit on Universities 2027, WSU27, meets from Sunday 7 to Friday 12 November 2027 at the NEST Convention Center in Belek, Antalya, Türkiye, under the theme Re-Imagine University.

The World Summit on Universities is the meeting place of the world's universities and of everyone who shapes their future. It is an independent body, registered as World Summit on Universities, WSU LLC, with the World Universities Foundation as its strategic partner.

WSU27 gathers 1,000+ university leaders from every region as the Founding Delegates of the Summit. Over one week they hear the results of the year, examine them in plenaries, sessions and roundtables, and adopt them together: the International Day of Universities on the opening day, 7 November, and the Antalya University Declaration on Thursday 11 November.

The program runs day by day, from arrival and opening on Sunday to the closing on Friday. Speakers, sessions and partners are published on W-S-U.org as they are confirmed.

BEFORE YOU READ

This document presents WSU27, the World Summit on Universities 2027, in Antalya, Türkiye: its idea, its theme, its Founding Delegates, what it adopts and how its week unfolds. It follows the WSU Brand Book, Document 01. Speakers, sessions, partners and rates are published on W-S-U.org as they are confirmed, and nothing in these pages names a person or a partner before that.

WHY THE SUMMIT EXISTS

EVERY UNIVERSITY, ONE SUMMIT

The world has more than 35,000 universities. Until now, they have had no single place where all of them meet as equals.

The great conversations about the future of the university are held in small circles: a few hundred famous names, a handful of rankings, meetings that most rectors and presidents never attend. More than 80 percent of the world's universities have no seat at the global table, though together they teach most of the world's students and serve most of its cities.

The World Summit on Universities was created to be that table. Its principle fits in a few words: not only the elites, but all. A young university in a growing city and an ancient university with a famous name take their seats side by side, with the same voice in what the Summit decides.

The Summit is a real platform for work, not a talk shop. Its delegates come to find practical, collective answers to the questions they share, and to leave with partners, with commitments and with texts they have shaped themselves.

THE TURNING POINT

WHY NOW

The university is entering its most decisive decade, and the forces that reshape it reach every campus at once.

Artificial intelligence is transforming how knowledge is produced, taught, verified and trusted. The aspiration to higher education is rising in every region. Governments, markets and technology platforms increasingly define the future of learning, often with more coordination than the institutions entrusted with it.

No institution bears a comparable responsibility for knowledge, leadership and the future of societies. Yet the universities of the world have never declared, together and in their own name, the principles that bind them and the direction they choose.

A year of work, a week of decision

2027 gives them that moment. Through the year, Founding Boards prepare the texts and the reports. In November, the Founding Delegates of the Summit examine that work in Antalya, Türkiye, and adopt it together, so that the future of the university is decided by the universities of the world.

THE THEME

RE-IMAGINE UNIVERSITY

Two questions stand behind the theme: the future of the university, and the university of the future.

The first question asks what will become of the institution itself: its purpose, its place in society, its relation to the state, to the economy and to the communities it serves. The second asks what a university must be to serve the decades ahead: how it teaches, researches, governs and earns the trust of the public.

Re-Imagine University has been the theme of the World Summit on Universities since 2024. In 2027 it is the thread of the whole year. The Founders' Council of the World Universities Foundation opens the work in January, and WSU27 adopts it in November.

The purpose

- What a graduate must carry into a world not yet visible
- Which knowledge must be kept, advanced and shared

The practice

- Teaching, research and service in the age of intelligent machines
- Governance, finance and trust

The place

- The university in its city and its nation
- Its role in the questions that cross borders

THE FOUNDING ASSEMBLY

THE FOUNDING DELEGATES

Every delegate of WSU27 takes part as a Founding Delegate of the World Summit on Universities.

The Founding Delegates are the founding assembly of the Summit. They hear the work of the year, examine it in plenary and in sessions, and adopt its outcomes in their own name. What they adopt in Antalya, Türkiye, carries the authority of the universities of every region, not of a single country, network or ranking.

01 Hear. The Founding Boards present the results of their year of work, and the plenaries open each question to every delegate.

02 Examine. Sessions by region and by domain, and roundtables among peers, give every delegation the time to weigh the texts and to speak.

03 Adopt. The delegates adopt the International Day of Universities on 7 November and the Antalya University Declaration on 11 November.

04 Carry home. Each delegate returns with the adopted texts, new partners across regions, and a place among the founders of the Summit.

The year opens with the Founders' Council, FC27, from 26 to 29 January 2027. Its four tracks form the Founding Boards of four initiatives of the World Universities Foundation, and each board adopts its road to November. CAN-27, the twin summit on climate action, follows from 14 to 17 March, and the Smart University Forum, SUF27, from 25 to 28 April. Both are held in collaboration with the World Summit on Universities.

Through the months between, the boards consult universities in every region. In November they bring their results to WSU27, where the Founding Delegates examine them and adopt them together.

THE OUTCOMES

WHAT WSU27 ADOPTS

Four initiatives of the World Universities Foundation come to the Summit for presentation and adoption, in this order.

The International Day of Universities

IDU. One day each year, 7 November, for every university. Adopted by the Founding Delegates on the opening day, 7 November 2027.

The Antalya University Declaration

AUD. A universal declaration of principles and commitments for the university. Adopted in Antalya, Türkiye, on Thursday 11 November 2027.

The State of Universities Annual Report

SUAR. The global reference on where the university stands and where it must go. Its founding edition, SUAR27, is presented to the delegates.

The Authors' Corner

Where the ideas shaping higher education meet the leaders shaping universities. Its books and authors join the Summit through the week.

Each initiative reaches the Summit through its Founding Board, formed at FC27 in January. The board presents its year of work, and the Founding Delegates examine it and decide. WSU27 is the place where these initiatives become the shared work of the universities of the world.

ADOPTED ON THE OPENING DAY

THE INTERNATIONAL DAY OF UNIVERSITIES

One day each year, on 7 November, when universities everywhere celebrate what they give to humanity.

International days exist for many causes, professions and ideas. None is given to the university. The International Day of Universities, IDU, sets one fixed date in every country, so that a small college and a great university celebrate at the same moment, as equals. Each university chooses how it celebrates, from one public lecture to a whole open day.

WSU27 opens on that date. On Sunday 7 November 2027, the Founding Delegates of the Summit adopt the day together, and the first International Day of Universities is celebrated on campuses around the world on 7 November 2028, then every year after that.

ADOPTED ON THURSDAY 11 NOVEMBER

THE ANTALYA UNIVERSITY DECLARATION

The future of the university, declared by the universities of the world.

The Antalya University Declaration, AUD, is a universal declaration of principles and commitments for the university, drafted through an open global consultation. It is a declaration of principle, not a treaty: a preamble and ten articles, brief enough to be read in minutes and cited for generations. It answers to no government, market or ranking, and it sets a shared direction, never a single model.

The questions before the delegates

Graduates
- What knowledge, capacities and values must a graduate carry into a world not yet visible?

Knowledge
- Which forms of knowledge must be preserved, advanced and shared responsibly, and how?

Boundaries
- Which ethical boundaries must remain firm in an age of powerful technologies?

On Thursday 11 November 2027, the Founding Delegates adopt the Declaration together. From that day it is open for signature to every university in the world, and it remains open.

EVIDENCE AND IDEAS

SUAR AND THE AUTHORS' CORNER

The Summit decides with evidence in hand, and with the best thinking on the university within reach.

The State of Universities Annual Report

SUAR is the global reference on where the university stands and where it must go, read through five lenses: challenges, aspirations, ideas, concepts and trajectories. It does not rank the university; it reads the state of the whole, across the fourteen domains of university life. Its founding edition, SUAR27, is presented to the Founding Delegates in Antalya, Türkiye.

Young researchers of many regions at work

The Authors' Corner

The Authors' Corner connects the authors, publishers and university presses whose work shapes higher education with the leaders who run the world's universities. At WSU27 its selected books sit on a curated shelf, and its authors meet delegates in conversations, signings and small roundtables.

INDEPENDENT, WITH A STRATEGIC PARTNER

The World Summit on Universities is an independent body, registered as World Summit on Universities, WSU LLC.

WSU keeps its own name, mark, domain and mailbox, and it decides its own program. Its strategic partner is the World Universities Foundation, WUF, whose initiatives the Summit presents and whose gatherings of the year carry their work to Antalya, Türkiye. The partnership joins the two in purpose; it never merges them.

Partners of WSU27

Institutions, companies and organizations may stand behind the Summit, its sessions, its access for delegations from every region, and its moments of the week. Each role is agreed with WSU, and partners are named only once they are confirmed. No partner shapes the texts, the findings or the decisions of the Founding Delegates.

Antalya, Türkiye, sits where Europe, Asia, Africa and the Middle East meet: a neutral and accessible place where leaders of every region meet as equals.

In November the coast is mild and calm after its summer season, and the light over the bay and the Taurus mountains is soft. Antalya Airport connects the city with Europe, the Middle East, Central Asia and beyond.

Around Belek lie the ancient cities of the coast, the long beaches and the old town of Antalya, Kaleiçi: a week here leaves room for the conversations a summit is for.
